

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

That plus some of us young kids that don't hve anyone to co-sign on a regular cell phone, get tracfones because it's the next closest thing that there is. Also by increasing the prices you're only going to get young, teenage kids mad. The recent study that i learned about in school is that about 84% of all the money spent/earned is by highschoolers, and Teenagers because we don't have to pay for anything just the fun stuff that we want. So in total if you were to raise phone taxes people would really start hating you and spending their money else where and you would loose alot of money. I know that profit is what keeps you into selling your products.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Mike Selzler
